Advancing Knowledge + Building Skills: Adult learning can be as enjoyable as discovery is for a child! FPAGP's leadership team created and utilizes our Learning Hub to produce and deliver robust, engaging programming. [https://issuu.com/melissakemp28/docs/learning_hub_aug_25_draft]

CFP® Professionals pay annual dues of $499 (less than $42/month). When you scan these 12 months, is there one program option monthly that might be worth $42 to you?Also consider additional membership benefits like the popular disability plan, the new health insurance group plans, the Journal of Financial Planning, your media connections, and more. FPAGP Public Health Events Policy: The Chapter's Board of Directors, working with its Executive Director, will, during any public health situation announced by a governmental body and affecting Arizona, identify all requirements and guidance issued by the relevant federal, Arizona, and local authorities and follow them. In the event of conflicting requirements or guidance, the Chapter will follow the more restrictive ones. The Chapter will also ensure, the best it is able, that any venues it uses for meetings or events will make accommodations to allow the Chapter to follow the requirements or guidance under which it is operating.

FPAGP Professional Development
Beyond Continuing Education

Community Conversations | Jimmy Kimmel meets Chapter Members! A little humor, a lot of information, a glimpse into the life and path of a fellow community member.

Partner CEvents | Our subject matter experts provide chapter members with 1 hour of focused deep dive content into their world and their view.

Workshops | Focus on skill development and hands on learning and practice. Different. Interactive. Fun! Useful.

Social Connections | Networking-centric gatherings like Happy Hours, Joint events and mixers, pre- or post-event gatherings for debriefing and sharing.

Field Trips | Exploring physical locations relevant to components of Financial Planning. Past trips include the Federal Reserve, a series of mortuaries, several Senior Living Communities, and the Amazon headquarters.

Compliance CE | CFP and Arizona licensed insurance professional Ethics. Quality instruction at affordable rates. Delivered roughly twice annually through the chapter.

Town Halls | Bring a relevant and diverse set of stakeholders together for a planned, researched and moderated approach to identifying issues, creating opportunities, or solving problems.

Pro Bono Events | Your opportunity to give back to our community through advocacy or volunteer hours.
